Parent Advice

Please keep this as a resource to use at home.

At school the internet is mostly used to support teaching and learning. However, at home it is often used differently. Not only is it a study resource for students, but it is being used as a social space to meet, play and chat. The internet can be lots of fun.

If you have the internet at home, encourage your child to show you what they are doing online. If not, see if you can make a time to visit the school to see their work and how the school uses the internet.

Bullying, stranger danger, gossip, telling the wrong people personal information have long been issues for young people growing up. These are all behaviours which are present online. These are not 'virtual' issues. They are real and can be hard, and hurt.

- Make some time to sit with your child to find out how they are using the internet and who else is involved in any online activities.
- Ask them to give you a tour of their space if they are using a site which allows them to chat, publish photos, play games etc.
- Always get them to set their space to 'Private' if they use a social networking site like Kik, Instagram or Facebook. This way they are in control of who can contact them and access their information). The age restriction for Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat and many other social media platforms is 13+ years.
- Have the computer with internet access set up in a shared place in the house - not your child's bedroom!
- Negotiate appropriate times for your child's online activities and use of mobile phones.
- Ask questions when your child shows you what they are doing

Teesdale Primary School Policy

- How does it work? How do you set it up?
- Can you block out people? How is that done
- Who else is sharing this space or game?
- Did you know them before, or 'meet' them online, and what do you know about them?
- Why is this so enjoyable? What makes it fun?
- Can you see any risks or dangers in the activities? What would you say to warn/inform a younger child who was going to start using the space?
- What are you doing to protect yourself or your friends from these potential dangers?
- When would you inform an adult about an incident that has happened online that concerns you?

This informal type of questioning can provide you with both a great way for you the parent and your child to interact and communicate and also a way you can learn the ins and outs of the internet with your child as your teacher.
